CARE GUIDE · REAL LEATHER PLACEMATS & COASTERS

Caring for your NAMUOS leather placemat

Everyday care

Wipe it after each use with a soft, slightly damp cloth, then let it air-dry flat.

Blot spills right away with a dry cloth. Don't rub, because rubbing pushes liquid deeper into the leather.

For greasy marks, dust the spot with a little cornstarch or talc. Leave it for a few hours, then brush it off gently.

Avoid

Soaking it, dishwashers and washing machines

Harsh cleaners, alcohol, bleach, solvents and abrasive sponges

Hot pans and dishes placed directly on the leather.

Long exposure to direct sunlight or heat sources like radiators, which can fade and dry out the leather

EVERY 2-3 MONTHS

Conditioning

Every 2-3 months, or whenever the leather looks dry, rub in a thin layer of colorless leather conditioner or balm with a soft cloth. Leave it for about an hour, then buff away any excess. Test it first on a small spot.

KEEP IT FLAT

Storage

Store your placemats flat, or stack them with nothing heavy on top. Don't fold or roll them tightly. Keep them somewhere dry and ventilated, never in a plastic bag, because leather needs to breathe.

BLOT & DRY

If it gets wet

Blot off as much moisture as you can. Let it dry flat at room temperature, away from direct heat. Once it's fully dry, apply a little conditioner to restore its suppleness.
