MERINO WOOL FELT PLACEMATS & COASTERS

Care Guide

Your placemat is made from natural merino wool felt. The wool's natural lanolin helps it resist dirt and moisture, so a little care goes a long way.

Everyday care

Shake out or brush off crumbs after each use. A soft clothes brush or a lint roller works well.

Blot spills right away with a clean, dry cloth. Don't rub, because rubbing pushes the stain into the fibers and roughens the surface.

For small marks, dab gently with a cloth dampened with cold water and a drop of wool detergent, then blot with clean water. Let it dry flat.

Avoid

Washing machines, tumble dryers and dishwashers

Hot water, wringing and twisting, which can shrink or distort the felt

Bleach, stain removers, harsh cleaners and abrasive sponges

Hot pans and dishes placed directly on the felt.

AS NEEDED

Hand washing

When it needs more than a spot clean, hand wash it in cool water (max. 30 °C) with a mild wool detergent. Press gently, don't rub. Rinse in cool water, press out the water between towels and let it dry flat, away from direct heat.

LIGHT STEAM

Reshaping

If the edges curl or the felt loses its shape, press it with an iron on the wool setting, using steam and a damp cloth between the iron and the felt. Small bobbles that appear with use can be removed with a fabric shaver.

KEEP IT FLAT

Storage

Store your placemats flat or stacked, somewhere dry and ventilated. Don't fold them. Keep them out of direct sunlight, which can fade the color. A cedar block or lavender sachet helps keep moths away.
